Truman Stirs Up New Debate With 'Eyewash' Jibe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 — (P)—President Truman's dismissal of state presidential primary elections as "eyewash" has brought a new debate on Capitol Hill and sharp retorts from Republican contenders for his job.

Harold E. Stassen said: "President Truman's statement is an example of the cynical attitude of the Pendergast machine toward the rights of the people."

Gov. Earl Warren of California said: "The election process in this country is never eyewash."

Democrats commented, too, and some, including Senator Smathers (D-Fla.) said he agreed with the President.

He and Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) have been pushing for congressional action to install party primaries in all the states.

"By saying presidential primaries are eyewash and don't mean a thing, President Truman put his finger on an evil I'd like to do away with," Smathers said.

"THE PEOPLE should have some say-so in the selection of candidates for President and Vice-President."

Senator Douglas, noting he was not seeking a row with the President, urged "presidential primaries be expanded rather than contracted."

He said nominations at conventions now are controlled by about 1,000 party leaders "who frequently nominate men whom the people do not want and ignore others whom the people do desire."

Other observers have pointed out that delegates to national party conventions are not bound by the dictates of the "little voter" back home, that many a candidate is selected by a handful of party bosses in "smoke-filled hotel rooms."

The question is: If John Q. Voters declines to exercise his ballot at a primary, is that situation any worse than if the candidate is picked under the present system?

Three other Democratic senators agree with Mr. Truman that he can have his party's presidential nomination—if he wants it—without bothering about state primaries.

STILL KEEPING his plans to himself, the President told his news conference Thursday if he wants the nomination he does not have to go into any primary.

"I feel sure about that," Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.)

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Last Sunday's Paint Creek flood, the worst in 39 years, has put Washington C. H. in the national spotlight again.

Sure, the whole state was caught in overflowing streams and some of the cities and towns they soaked got their press notices, but Washington C. H. made the front pages with pictures.

Just why Washington C. H. was singled out is not exactly clear, but it could have been for several reasons, not the least of which might be the city's unusual name with the "C. H." suffix or the fact that the water swept across a vast prairie farmland not often hit by floods.

Already the front pages from other newspapers are coming in to the Record-Herald from friends in distant places.

Of course, the pictures, either of a cow in distress being dragged out of the water or one of West Court Street showing cars creeping along through the water, have been in most Ohio newspapers.

James Chakeres, who was in New York over the week end, said when he came back that he had picked up a New York World Telegram and saw a big picture of flooded Court Street, 4 columns wide, right on the front page. That was on Monday and it was the first time he knew anything about the flood.

A clipping from the Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal has been sent in by Ed Santhaler of Washington C. H., a traveling salesman. It was of the cow rescue.

Mrs. Faith Pearce and Mrs. Clare Louise Boren have received the front pages of the magazine section from Monday's St. Louis Post-Dispatch showing big pictures of West Court Street. Mrs. Pearce's daughter, Mrs. Del Mann, sent one and Mrs. Boren's sister-in-law, Mrs. Joseph C. Doneghy sent the other.

More of them will be coming in during the next week or so, in all probability, as the mail arrives from the far west and deep south.

The pictures were all taken by the Record-Herald photographer and distributed by the Associated Press over its Wirephoto trunk lines.

The prints were sent out of the Record-Herald office Sunday night to the Columbus Bureau of the Associated Press.

CIO Asks Guaranteed Minimum Annual Wage

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 — (P)—A guaranteed minimum annual wage in American industry was demanded Friday by Philip Murray, president of the CIO United Steelworkers, to offset unemployment and to "strike dismay" in the Kremlin.

Murray, also CIO president, likened guaranteed annual wages to a domestic "Point Four program" for "backward, or under-developed, areas of American economic stability."

Murray outlined his proposal before a six-man panel of the Wage Stabilization Board, which resumed a hearing on the steelworkers' wage and other demands after a three-week recess. A possible nationwide steel strike hinges on the outcome of the hearings.

Another hearing witness for the CIO, Economist Murray W. Latimer, said a guaranteed annual wage in the steel industry for employees with three or more years' service could be supported by company contributions of 6½ to 7 cents an hour.

In calling for the guaranteed wage plan, which in effect would give workers three-quarters of their normal pay in slack periods for as long as a year, Murray said it was not socialistic.

"Our guaranteed annual wage proposal is drafted with the best interests of our American free enterprise system in mind," he said. "It will strengthen American free enterprise, now and over the long run."

"And its adoption would strike dismay in the hearts of the men in the Kremlin who are banking on American economic distress as their most valuable fifth column in the campaign to weaken free institutions and hasten the spread of Communist dictatorship."

Nationalists Chalk Victory

UN Labels 'Red Russia' As 'Treaty-Breaker'

PARIS, Feb. 1 — (P)—The UN General Assembly has approved an American-backed resolution labeling Russia a treaty-breaker for failing to live up to its 1945 friendship pact with Nationalist China.

With almost half the members not voting, the ballot was 25 to nine, with 24 abstentions and two members not present.

The assembly's action in approving the relatively mild rebuke represented a triumph for Nationalist China's delegate Dr. T. F. Tsiang, who has been trying for three years to get some sort of UN condemnation of Russia's part in the downfall of Chiang Kai-shek.

The Nationalists charged Russia violated the treaty to aid the Chinese Communists and that this aid was responsible for Chiang's ejection from the mainland.

The watered down resolution merely noted Russia "failed to carry out" its 1945 treaty.

EVEN IN THIS weakened form, however, many countries including some of America's staunchest allies, refused to have anything to do with it. They included Britain, Mexico, Netherlands, the Scandinavian countries plus many of the Asian and Arab nations. All these abstained from voting.

Burma, India, Indonesia and Israel voted with the Soviet bloc against the Chinese complaint.

The Russian treaty with Nationalist China was signed in August, 1945, as an outgrowth of the Yalta agreement by President Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. Introducing his complaint last Saturday, Tsiang said he found Roosevelt's position at Yalta difficult to justify.

The Chinese Communists repudiated the 1945 treaty when they came to power and signed a new agreement with Russia in 1950.

Earlier Friday Burma's chief delegate to the United Nations said his country will call on the UN—and only the UN—if it needs help to drive Chinese Nationalist stragglers out of North Burma.

Rocky Fork Lake Troubles Aired At Meeting Here Thursday Night

The Rocky Fork Lake and park project has run into some financial snags, and unless it gets some additional money it may not be flooded for some time.

This was the picture of the status of Rocky Fork project as presented here Thursday night at a meeting of newspapermen, business leaders and legislators from this area and state officials.

Meanwhile, work will be continued on the project to prepare the lake for flooding—as long as money can be obtained.

V. W. FLICKINGER, chief of the division of parks for Ohio, told the group: "We are about $12,000 in the hole now."

To get the governor and state legislators further interested in Rocky Fork so that its immediate and long range needs can be taken care of, the group suggested that a committee of citizens from this area be appointed.

The committee is not to be a pressure group, but a group of citizens interested in seeing to it that long range goals of lake planners would be realized for the benefit of the public, if at all possible.

It would seek to help obtain the financing needed to obtain the land needed to insure a "take" strip of 500 feet of state-owned land around the 30 miles of shoreline.

Southern Ohio Gambling Slips

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1 — (P)—Gambling in Southern Ohio fell off about $383,000 in a month, the Internal Revenue Department reports.

Howard T. Jordan, chief of the wage and excise division, said business reported for December amounted to $2,143, as compared to $385,570 for November. He based the figures on reports submitted by gamblers who are required to pay a monthly tax on 10 per cent of the total amount of bets taken.

The 13-county area includes Cincinnati, Hamilton, Wilmington, Dayton, Springfield, Washington C. H., Portsmouth and Ironton.

Also the committee would work towards the development of youth camps, parking areas, adequate access points to the lake, proper road approaches, boat facilities, beaches, conservation projects and other recreational facilities.

WASHINGTON C. H., located some 30 miles from the lake site, has a dual interest in the lake development. It will make a recreational and fishing lake available to people here and it will draw lake visitors through this city who will spend money here in restaurants, service establishments and other business places.

One hitch has developed in plans for accommodating thousands of recreationists who will visit the lake. The state doesn't own enough land around the lake. And it will be difficult for the state to get the land now unless it is willing to pay sky-high prices, since much of the adjoining land has been subdivided into lots and sold at reportedly fantastically high prices. There are reports that some of the choice lots are selling for as high as $3,000 apiece.

ENTERPRISING real estate men and others bought up so much of the adjoining land that there are only eight access points around the entire lake, and some of them have been described as "not very satisfactory," the group was told.

One of the state officials estimated that it would take about $1,332,000 at the rate of $400 an acre for the 3,330 additional acres thought needed to make the project adequate for the needs of people in this area. The official said his figure of $400 an acre was just a rough estimate.

This additional acreage would provide for a 500-foot state-owned strip of land completely around the lake and would also provide for adequate parking and recreational areas.

Under a recent ruling the state is required to have the 500-foot "take" strip. At the present time there are some places around the lake fringes where there is no state owned land abutting onto the lake.

A SURVEY MADE by the old conservation commission was found to be in error after an instrument survey was taken. The state is seeking, by constructive means, to correct this deficiency of state-owned land around the lake.

And the meeting Thursday night was called for the purpose of providing newspapermen in this area with the facts of the Rocky Fork story and in seeking their reactions to what the next step in insuring the realization of the project should be.

Newspapermen from Highland County, where the lake will be located, wanted to be sure that the project is not allowed to bog down and lose public interest. They and others at the meeting were in general accord that the state should strive to make the project available to the public.

Long-Term Pact Demanded

Truck Drivers Strike, But Accord Developing

COLUMBUS, Feb. 1 — (P)—Nearly 6,000 Ohio truck drivers were out on strike Friday. They want more pay.

Officials of the AFL Teamsters Union already claimed steady defections in the solid front of opposition to wage demands shown Thursday by the operators.

Dale Mann of Columbus, business agent for Teamsters Local 413, said several companies signed up "in the last hour." Mann said the latest to sign independent contracts were:

Hayes Freight Lines of Mattoon, Ill., CCC of Cleveland, C. and D. of Cincinnati and Haackel of Hamilton.

Ohio truck owners voted Thursday night to reject wage proposals by the union. J. Ralph Riley, member of the negotiating committee for Ohio owners, Thursday night said "we have given our final decision to top officials in the Central States Drivers Council."

In Cleveland, Teamsters Local 407 said U. S. Truck Lines of Norwalk, Keeshin Motor Express, TransAmerican and Interstate Transport have signed.

ABOUT 22 steel-hauling firms signed contracts, the Cleveland union said, leaving a few unsigned in that field.

A spot check of some Columbus trucking firms indicated the swing to signing likely was growing. Of the first three called, two said they would sign a contract Friday, a third was undecided.

The drivers want an hourly wage increase of 19 cents and hikes of 7½ cents in 1953 and 1954. The drivers are paid now on an average of $1.60 an hour with varying mileage rate.

Under the new contract, already signed by many truck groups, the truckers also would get a hike in mileage pay rate of three-fourths of a cent a mile, with further boosts of one-fourth cent in 1953 and 1954.

The strikes virtually paralyzed operation of freight companies in 15 states. The effects were felt immediately throughout much of the eastern half of the country.

The strikers hit the south from the Carolinas to Texas and in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Ohio. The long-haul truckers were ordered out Thursday midnight by the AFL Teamsters Union against approximately 500 companies.

The Federal Mediation Service in Washington was keeping an eye on the strike situation. But there was no indication what the government's next step might be.

Flood Crest Drawing Near To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1 — (P)—The crest of the weakened Ohio River flood rolled toward Cincinnati Friday and areas downstream in Kentucky and Indiana began getting ready for their jolt of high water.

The predicted crest of 57.5 feet was due here Friday. That would be five and a half feet over flood stage. Low-lying streets already were under water, but there were no indications of any serious damage.

Upstream, the river started falling at Portsmouth late Thursday and it crested later at Manchester, Aberdeen and Ripley.

Manchester was the hardest hit in the Adams - Brown - Clermont County area and residents of approximately 40 homes were being housed in the National Guard Armory.

In this area, approximately 100 persons were being housed by the Red Cross Disaster Committee. Many others living on low lying streets either had moved to upper floors or had joined relatives on higher ground.

UN, Reds Actually Can Reach Accord

PANMUNJOM, Feb. 1 — (P)—Allied and Communist truce negotiators reached quick agreement on one point Friday.

Heavy smoke rose from a stove in a conference tent. An Allied aide said "I suggest we move to another tent." The Communists agreed.

Communists Turn Down Allied Ideas

Neutral Inspection, Entry Port Plans Get Cold Shoulder

MUNSAN, Feb. 1 — (P)—Red negotiators proposed Friday the fate of 600,000 displaced Korean civilians be left to the "good faith" of the Allies and Communists.

The Reds "turned down" a UN plan to have neutrals find out where the displaced Koreans want to live. 2—Cut the Allied proposal for inspections at 12 ports of entry to three, and 3—Did not reply to the Allied selection of Switzerland, Sweden and Norway as neutral observers of a Korean truce.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said "We told them good faith was not enough" guarantee that displaced civilians would be allowed to live where they choose. He said "everything was very amicable except they didn't agree."

The UN proposed neutral teams interview displaced persons after the Reds again rejected a proposal to give the job to the international committee of the Red Cross. The Communists said they wanted no part of the Red Cross because it is not neutral.

There was no mention of voluntary prisoner repatriation, key stumbling block in the prisoner exchange negotiations.

Staff officers working on truce supervision machinery completed a preliminary study of the Allied working draft.

THE OFFICIAL UN Command communiqué said the officers "will now attempt to resolve the differences in viewpoints, most of them minor, which have been uncovered."

Among the differences in viewpoint is a disagreement over how many ports of entry should be inspected by neutral teams. The UN proposed 12 on either side—24 all told. The Reds suggested that three on each side would be sufficient. They listed Sinuiju, Hamhung and Chongjin in North Korea and Pusan, Inchon and Suwon behind Allied lines.

The Red proposal brought prompt and unfavorable reaction from Allied negotiators.

"We pointed out the impracticality of trying to limit our operations to three points and suggested that they reconsider their offer," said Col. Don O. Darrow, a UN staff officer.

An Allied spokesman said other disputes involve the number of troops each side may rotate, several UN held coastal islands which the Reds want and the number of neutral inspection teams behind the lines.

The UN wants 15 teams operating behind the lines on each side. The Reds have not said how many they want.

The staff officers aren't even discussing the principal obstacle to agreement on how to supervise an armistice. This is the question of whether the Reds have the right to build and repair military airfields in North Korea during an armistice.

Man, 99, Refuses To Contest Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Fe. — (P)—John A. Brown, 99, didn't take time off from his $175-a-month job as plant guard to contest his wife's divorce action.

Mrs. Isabelle Brown, 72, told the court she is willing to cook for her husband and share grocery bills until they are divorced, but that she needs $125 a month to get along. Brown gave her only $31.40. The court awarded her $80 a month temporary alimony. The couple has been married 28 years.

Then intermediate troop No. 3 was introduced, and Mrs. Walls presented the following girls with their wings (a fly-up): Mary Ann Creamer, Martha Jane Walls, Sarah Sue Davidson, Nancy and Linda Allen, Patty Stoddard, Evelyn Timmons and Joanne Jordan.

After this, a candlelight service was conducted by Mrs. Walls and eight Brownie Scouts. The Brownie Scouts presented each of the girls with a lighted candle to light her way through the coming year.

Mrs. Sharrett and Mrs. Baker presented the girls with Scout pins as each gave a promise. The girls gave the Scout laws in unison, and each was presented with a membership card. Piano numbers and readings and a trumpet solo were presented by the Brownies.

Members of the Brownies the Girl Scouts had displays of their work on hand for all to see.

Jean Coil offered a patriotic reading, and Mrs. Amelia Mack, leader of Troop No. 1 presented the girls in a short program, which included a song by the troop, chimes on the piano by Joanne Mack and on water glasses by two of the girls. Jackie Mack and Joanne Halford presented some numbers on the ukulele.

Evening of Visiting For Yatesville PTO

The Yatesville Parent-Teacher Organization passed up everything except urgent and routine business at its meet Thursday night in favor of what was described as an "old fashioned visiting time."

And, as the members started for home after nearly two hours of "visiting," the consensus was that "a good time was had by all."

About 40 members of the organization were there.

Eugene Denen, the president, conducted the business meeting which was highlighted by the vote to give $5 to the March of Dimes campaign.

After Mrs. Glen McCoy, the secretary-treasurer read her report that showed a balance of $174 in the treasury, there was some discussion of how it should be spent.

But, aside from general agreement that the PTO's next project would be something that would benefit the school, no definite action was taken.

There was the impression, however, that the money would be spent in the near future to add something needed to the school.

Most of the money now in the treasury, it was said, came from the school carnival last fall.

There was no program of entertainment and no refreshments, that was part of the experiment to devote meetings periodically to "old fashioned visiting."

Rocky Fork Lake

BEFORE the long range program can be undertaken $141,044, it is estimated, will be required to get the lake site ready for flooding. An additional $300,000 would be needed to set up the minimum requirements of toilet facilities, parking areas, walks, beaches, etc. Several hundred thousand dollars in addition would be needed to buy up land needed for the long range program.

As the project now stands, there is less than 1,200 acres of state-owned land abutting the area which will be flooded by the lake. The state officials say this is about one acre of land to each two acres of water. They say this is a highly undesirable ratio for proper development, wildlife and conservation.

No goal is ever set for the March of Dimes, but William A. Lovell, chairman of the campaign this year, said he and his committee hoped to at least equal last year's total.

Vocational Club Organized at WHS

Bud Inderrieden is the first president of the Vocational Industrial Club of Washington C. H. High School which was formed at an organizational meeting Thursday.

The other officers of the club, which is part of a statewide organization, are Jack English, vice president; Harvey Pollock, secretary-treasurer; Thomas Smith, news reporter and Daryl Stewart, sergeant-at-arms.

The following committee was named to draw up a constitution and set of by-laws: Dean Bonecutter, Ralph Baughn, Harold Smith and Homer Hart.

The club's next step is an application for affiliation with the Vocational Industrial Club of Ohio.

Paul Prichard, the WHS vocational coordinator, and Arthur D. Engle, the vocational instructor, help the boys of the class set up their new club. Most of them are enrolled in the auto mechanics courses.

The next meeting is to be held Feb. 13.

The club has named delegates to the state convention in the new Ohio Union on the Ohio State University campus Feb. 22. They are George Phillips, Homer Hart and Bud Inderrieden.

year. He gave a few figures, however, on what is known as an indication of the trend.

Already $369 has been collected by the pupils in the city schools and turned in. Last Sunday night, the collection at one of the three theaters amounted to $49, the total for all theaters for the entire campaign to date has not been tallied, he said.

THE LITTLE imitation iron lung collection containers that have been in most of the business places from the start of the campaign have not been picked up yet, Lovell said. Thomas Mark is head of the committee in charge of these little containers. It is understood he intends to leave them for a few more days yet.

Then there are the big boards that have been hung on the walls on some other business places. more than $300 in dollar bills have been counted on just one of them. The March of Dimes ended officially Jan. 31, but here it is going to continue for a few more days to gather up the loose ends and complete the check-ups, Lovell said.

Youth Marooned On Flooded Isle

CINCINNATI, Feb. 1.—Police rescued a 16-year-old boy Thursday from a flood-marooned island where he had been marooned since Tuesday.

The youth, Clifford Griffith, attracted the attention of flood watchers by flashing a flashlight. He had been marooned at a camp which is on what normally is a knoll on the Ohio River bank. The youth told officers he killed a rabbit and ate it for supper Thursday.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 — (P)—Here are things you can—and can't—claim as personal expenses if you itemize your deductions. This story deals only with deductible personal, not business, expenses.

And at the end is a list of tax-free income which doesn't have to be reported at all.

You do your itemizing on Page 3 of Form 1040 under six headings on the top half of the page: Contributions, interest, taxes, losses from natural causes and theft, medical and dental expenses, and miscellaneous.

You can't deduct more than 15 per cent of income for contributions. Within that limit you can deduct for contributions to non-profit organizations operated for charitable, religious, scientific or literary purposes. Examples:

Community Chest; Red Cross; Salvation Army; tuberculosis, heart and cancer societies; societies for the prevention of cruelty to children and animals; USO; American Legion and other veterans' outfits.

YOU CAN deduct for interest you paid on installment purchases; or borrowed money for personal notes; on life insurance loans; and on the mortgage on your home.

You can deduct for state income and personal property and real estate taxes except those which, like paving assessments, tend to increase the value of your property; school taxes; auto license plates and drivers' licenses (but not auto inspection fees); state unemployment insurance taxes; and state or local retail taxes (like gasoline) if under the laws of your state they are imposed directly on the consumer or if they are imposed on the retailer (or wholesaler in the case of gasoline taxes) and the amount of tax is separately stated by the retailer to the consumer.

But you cannot deduct for federal income taxes, federal Social Security taxes which you pay for yourself or a domestic employee (if you're an employer) or which are withheld from your pay if you're an employee.

You cannot deduct, as a personal expense, taxes for tickets to theaters, ball games, movies, night clubs. You cannot deduct gift, inheritance or estate taxes; federal excise or luxury taxes such as on jewelry, furs, cosmetics, pocket books; federal taxes on tobacco, liquor; federal taxes on gasoline, oil, tires; federal taxes on radios and refrigerators; taxes on personal telephone calls; or taxes on travel fares, such as trains, ships, planes, buses.

YOU CAN deduct for damage to your home or other property by fire, hurricane, flood, lightning, storm, freezing, explosion; damage to car in an accident if you were not willfully at fault. And you can deduct for property loss through theft.

Until this year no taxpayer could deduct for medical or dental expenses except for that part which exceeded five percent of his income. The law has been changed a bit but only for some people.

Now if a taxpayer or his wife is 65 or over—meaning he could be 45 and his wife 65 or she could be 50 and he 65—he can skip that five per cent limitation that applies to those under 65. That is, he doesn't have to take only that part of his medical expense which exceeds five per cent of his income. He can take the expense from the start up to the limit on the total amount of medical expenses which can be claimed by anyone. The limit varies by the number of exemptions a person can claim. Deductions for dependents of people 65 remain the same as for dependents of people under 65. That is, they start deducting only that part of the medical bill which exceeds 5 per cent of their income.

For details on medical expenses see Page 14 of the 16-page pamphlet—"How to Prepare Your U. S. Income Tax Return"—which the government furnishes free for everyone itemizing on Form 1040.

You can deduct for dues to professional societies and for union

Obey Traffic Safety Rules Chief Urges

Know the Laws and Then Obey Them Is Admonition

"Go to the traffic court as a visitor—not as a violator!" This was the advice issued today by Police Chief Vaiden Long in appealing to motorists and pedestrians to observe traffic rules and regulations for their own safety.

"Contrary to popular belief," he said, "those of us who are in the enforcement end of the traffic safety field don't want the violators' money. The success of our activities, after all, is measured in terms of lives saved, not in the amount of fines collected in our traffic courts. We don't want your money. We want your safety!"

Traffic fines as a deterrent to unsafe driving are necessary in any city as motorized as Washington C. H., according to Chief Long. But to think of these fines as punishment, he said, is to lose sight of the real purpose behind the enforcement program.

"There is nothing so complicated or tricky in our local and state traffic laws that makes learning them impossible," Chief Long added. "And the simple process of knowing them and obeying them can mean lives saved and suffering and injury avoided."

"A traffic violation can mean more than a ticket. Too often it can mean injury or death."

"Yes, it's always better to go to traffic court as a visitor, not as a violator!"

You can deduct for alimony to your legally separated or divorced wife but only if the alimony was ordered by court; and the wife must report the alimony as her income.

You can't deduct for gifts to any individual, or for gifts to propaganda or political organizations or to political candidates.

Here is tax-free income which doesn't have to be reported:

FEDERAL income tax refunds (although the interest received on refunds is taxable); unemployment pay and Social Security benefits; life insurance paid because of the death of the insured; inheritance; gifts or bequests of money to you, although income from them is taxable; sickness and injury benefits received under workmen's compensation laws or through accident or health insurance which is covered by an insurance contract.

Also tax-free are mustering-out pay; all benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, such as education and subsistence; allowances for uniforms, subsistence, quarters; pensions to veterans or their families for war services; state bonuses to veterans; and pay for disability resulting from active service.

Service pay for members of the armed forces is taxable for any month they're not in a combat zone. But all service pay for enlisted men—and up to $200 for officers on active service—is tax-free for any month served in the combat zone or for any month in which a man was hospitalized for wounds, injuries or disease incurred while in the combat zone.

There's no tax on the estate of a serviceman who died of wounds or injuries received in a combat zone in 1951 or for any previous taxable year ending on or after the first day he served in the combat zone.

Letters To Editor

Washington C. H., Ohio
Jan. 30, 1952

Editor
Record-Herald
Dear Sir:

I see on the first page of a recent Record-Herald that the Union Township Board of Education is asking the Washington Board to release pupils to the rural district. It seems to me, a parent in the Union district, that we already have overcrowded buses and overcrowded schoolrooms and overcrowded teachers without taking children from other districts.

If the Union Township school districts were as they had been set up several years ago, the loads and classrooms at Eber would be less crowded and the Wilson school would have its share of children without taking extras from the Greenfield Road inside the city limits.

Yours truly,
Union Township Taxpayer

Corn Show Date Here Set Again

Annual Banquet To Be a Feature

The annual Fayette County Corn Show will be held again this year on Feb. 26, 27 and 28. The traditional get-together dinner for the businessmen of the city and the farms, again will be a companion feature.

This has just been announced by Robert Case, the president of the Fayette County Seed Improvement Association, which is actually the backbone of the two-day event.

Although the dinner will follow the same general pattern it has since it was started a good many years ago, there have been some changes in plans for the show, Case said.

The grain exhibits are to be spread out this year in the auditorium of the Fayette County Farm Bureau building on South Fayette Street, a new site.

This year's show is being sponsored by the Farm Bureau Cooperative Association. In years past, the Washington C. H. merchants were the sponsors while the detailed arrangements for the show were handled by the Seed Improvement Association and the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

THE NUMBER of classes for the show has been reduced to 22 this year, Case said. That is many fewer than in previous years.

Ribbons are to be awarded in most of the classes, Case said, with some merchandise prizes for the tops in several classes.

The Hobby Show, which has been one of the features of the Corn Show for several years, will not be included this year.

Members of the Fayette County Hobby Club are discussing the feasibility of holding a hobby show later on, and obtain whatever support is possible to insure its success.

Case said the banquet would be at the Country Club the night of

Lions at Jeff Get All Set For Minstrel

The Jeffersonville Lions Club is polishing up its songs, dances and humor for its fourth annual minstrel, which will be held Monday and Tuesday nights in the high school auditorium there.

Curtain time on each night is 8 P. M. Residents of the area have been issued a cordial invitation by the Jeffersonville club to come out for two evenings of fun and entertainment.

Since there are no reserved seats, minstrel goers are being advised to come early.

Six end men will keep the laughs rolling; there will be tap dances, vocal trios and singing by a quartet.

Proceeds of the minstrel will be used by the club for some worthwhile civic project.

DiSalle, who wants the Democratic nomination to run for senator in this state, declared the President "doesn't" think Eisenhower will be tough to defeat because he doesn't believe the country is ready yet to accept a military man as President.

No Moral Double Standard for Education

At last the awaited report on the conduct of intercollegiate athletics has been brought in. It is a thorough-going report, hard-hitting in the soft spots of athletic morality, strongly positive in recognizing the solid worth of college athletics in a sound program of higher education.

The American Council on Education, which makes the report, comprises the presidents of practically every institution of higher learning in the country. Their recommendations are certain to have great weight with the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the leading body having direct control over codes of conduct.

The essence of the report is that academic, not athletic, considerations must come first—with both the student and his university. Thus purely athletic scholarships are ruled out by placing all grants on the primary basis of academic ability or economic need. And all such aid would be channeled through the regular administration of the college—not via the athletic department.

Coaches and other key persons in the department would be accorded the status and pay normal for faculty members.

There would be no entertainment of high school stars, no supercharged tournaments arranged for the purpose of screening the best material for college teams. The rules of the Ivy and other leagues against freshmen on the varsity ought to be made general, the report urges.

The whole report emphasizes that knowledge comes first and morality in higher education must not attempt a double standard.

Our Next Move

Predictions that the United States will blockade Red China and bomb military concentration points and concentration centers beyond the Yalu mount as truce negotiations show signs of flickering out altogether. If the truce flops, or if the Chinese enter into it and then violate it, the military heat will be turned on, most observers agree.

It is inconceivable that the Chinese will be allowed to stall indefinitely while building up their air and ground power.

If all-out air attacks on China should come, they might eliminate the fear of additional Red aggressions against Indo-China and Burma.

Ted Brown's Plan

A new move planned by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown seems like a commendable convenience, arranged for the general public, and "smart politics" at the same time.

When man bites dog—that's news; when a state official takes his "office" out to the people, that, too, is news.

Secretary Brown is setting up 10 temporary "offices" throughout Ohio during February, in addition to his regular office in the State House in Columbus. On certain days in these temporary offices he will make appointments of county election officials and discuss problems and business of election and corporation departments with the people. Members of his staff will accompany him.

This plan gives many individuals an easier chance to talk with the secretary of state in person, on matters affecting their localities and brings the functions of state government a little closer to the people.

If those movie colony shootings are done for publicity purposes, the boys should keep their aim a little lower. Somebody may accidentally get killed.

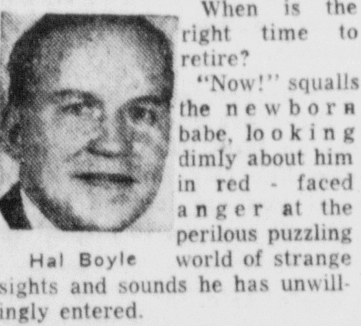

"What's going to happen to employment when the defense program levels off?" asks a curious editor. There will always be leaves to rake.

Retirement Only Dream of Youth

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—When is the right time to retire?

That problem is becoming of great concern to social workers who see America becoming a land of long-living graybeards. And more and more they question the wisdom of automatically turning out to uneasy pasture at 65 men who are still vigorous and healthy.

Hal Boyle

When is the right time to retire? "Now!" squalls the newborn babe, looking dimly about him in red-faced anger at the perilous puzzling world of strange sights and sounds he has unwillingly entered.

"I surely will have enough money at 30 to quit," hopes the young college graduate, and begins making notes for his memoirs.

"About 50 will be right for me—and I'll spend the rest of my life traveling," muses the fellow of 35.

"I guess I'll hang on until I'm 65," he says at 50, educated to the falling value of money and a growing disinclination for long journeys.

"If they'll just let me stay on working until I'm 70 I won't mind," he says at 64, now in love with the job he has complained against for 40 long years.

But at 69 he speaks out in panic:

"Retire? Never. I'm a better man now than I ever was. What is experience for—just to throw away as junk?"

And if he is forced into retirement, he goes grudgingly and sore of heart. He has carved a pattern in the wilderness world that frightened him as a baby so long ago, and he hates to yield that pattern for a formless new world of retirement, where he will again feel himself a stranger—a pioneer in idleness.

By now he knows idleness and vague yearnings for a life of complete ease are for a young and unknowing. He has learned himself that rust is the red warning of death and decay.

Success used to be the old American dream, when success was measured in dollars and cents. But for millions of people today there is a new American dream—retirement.

It is a beautiful dream—as a goal. But it is like most other dreams, goals, and fair women. The closer you get, the more the wrinkles show. A star is pale and cold and lovely far away in the evening sky. But if you ever came near it, it would roast you into a clinker.

So does the dream of retirement turn a man ashy when he achieves it and finds it a nightmare. He no longer wants to taste lotus. Heaven is a nice thing about, too, except when you get pneumonia.

The theory of retirement is backward. If it is true, as Bernard Shaw quipped, that youth was too wonderful to waste on young people, so is retirement too terrible a plague to visit on old people.

It Looks Like a Real Fight

By George Sokolsky

There are those who depreciate the divisions that arise from politicking. They bespeak unity. Yet, it is characteristic of our society that every child ought to aspire to the presidency and some men do. The keener the public interest, the more violent and sincere the campaign, the more numerous the aspirants, the better it is for the country. Let excitement reign and the truth come out!

Sokolsky

Now there are ample Republican and Democratic aspirants to have some real hot excitement over personalities and issues during the process of eliminating prior to the final ballot at the convention. Even among the Democrats, there are several hopeful ones, and should President Truman, on April 29, announce his departure from glory, which I cannot believe will happen, there will be many more. It would really do this nation good to have a dozen candidates in each party, all of them telling what they think and know about each other.

The emergence of Senator Estes Kefauver, as a candidate, is difficult to understand. Except for his abortive investigation of gambling so competently dramatized and televised, he has hardly any record of outstanding achievement in the Senate. Nevertheless, he has made himself a popular figure via television, and his languid manner somehow does give the appearance of substance. He looks like a paragon of virtue, more of the New England reformer than the Tennessee politician—that is, on television.

Whether his candidacy is realistic depends entirely upon the purposes of President Truman, who, if on April 29, he decides to continue, the convention of his party will have no way of stopping him. Kefauver then might be a vice-presidential candidate, if Truman will have him.

In the south, there is a firm desire to live without Truman as president. Yet, southerners who are more Republican in their outlook than some Republican senators, nevertheless could not join in such a coalition as Senator Karl Mundt proposed, nor will they actually vote against the Democratic party when the time comes for a showdown in the voting booth. Habit with them is more potent than self-interest, which is not an unusual human trait, who anyone who studies the peregrinations of the human soul knows.

It has been suggested in the south, and I understand that such a plan has actually been proposed by Governor Allan Shivers of Texas, that a Democrat run for the presidency whose object would be to defeat Truman and yet not be elected himself. In a word, such a candidate would be a totem pole, to draw off the curse from voting Republican. Thus, Truman would lose the southern states, which would mean his defeat; yet the southerners would not cast their ballots for the party of Lincoln.

Such a plan might make the election a stalemate, throw it into Congress in accordance with the constitution and delay decision for months. But it would defeat Truman.

The south always presents this psychological problem. In the 1940, 1944 and 1948 campaigns, hopes were elevated among Republicans that sooner or later a way would be found to form a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition but nothing serious ever came of it.

A group that called themselves Jeffersonian Democrats came into existence for this purpose, but they achieved nothing. The Dixiecrats of 1948 did not aid in the election of a Republican, although no Democrat was ever more offensive to southerners than Harry Truman.

To those who are not southerners, the continuance of post-Civil War psychology is difficult to understand in view of the changing economic conditions in the south. Yet, it is a continuing fact in American affairs and must be taken seriously, particularly as some states in the south and southwest are increasing in population, and therefore in representation in Congress and in the political conventions.

The current popularity of General Eisenhower in the south may arise from the assumption that it would be possible to vote for him for other reasons than that he has declared himself to be a Republican. To southerners, therefore, he is a way out of their dilemma, which is how to vote against Truman without voting for a Republican. But that argument does not do much good in other parts of the country.

The realistic fact is that names do count for more than principles and symbols affect men's minds potentially. And yet the names, Democratic and Republican, per se, have no such meaning as they had during the presidency of Andrew Jackson.

Diet and Health Don't Self-prescribe Thyroid Treatment

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Thyroid extract should be used only under the guidance of a physician. It can be dangerous if taken otherwise, for this drug can lead to a form of addiction.

Many people take thyroid on their own, without a physician's prescription, thinking it will pep them up, or give them more "oomph." Others use it for the purpose of reducing. This is an indiscriminate use of the drug and can prove harmful.

Thyroid drugs should not be taken if there is no real indication of decreased metabolism or underactivity of the thyroid gland.

Tests for Need

The doctor has several tests he can use to help him decide whether a patient needs thyroid extract. One of these is a metabolism test, which determines the amount of oxygen consumed by the body when at rest. This test usually shows whether there is any decrease in thyroid activity. A test made to learn the amount of cholesterol in the blood is also helpful in deciding whether thyroid extract is needed. The new radioactive materials have given us another practical test for thyroid deficiency. Radioactive iodine is taken into the body and delicate instruments are employed to trace its path and its use by the thyroid gland. It has been found that this test adequately determines a thyroid deficiency, and can be used to make a diagnosis of this disorder.

Dangers Minimized

If a physician determines from tests such as these that a patient's thyroid is underactive, he may then decide to have the patient take thyroid extract. When used in this way, the dangers from addiction can be kept at a minimum.

Persons taking thyroid extract should also have an examination by their physician at least twice a year to determine whether or not this form of treatment should be continued.

Famed Farben Chemical Firm Emerges Anew

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 1.—A powerful survivor has emerged from the fragments of I. G. Farben, Nazi Germany's chemical empire which has developed as many lives as a cat.

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH

A man is never in a more dangerous position than when he becomes a successful sinner. His success blinds him to the fact of his sin.

The gangster who makes money finds it hard to believe he is a gangster; his money keeps telling him he is a successful business man.

The politician who accepts a bribe and gets away with it is deluded into thinking he has earned the graft-money by "serving the public."

The man of dubious morals who is selected to office by a big majority is apt to assume that the voice of the people is the voice of God and thereafter he forgets all about morals.

A Boorish Host

On one occasion Jesus of Nazareth was invited as the honor guest at a dinner tendered him by a rich and prominent citizen. The host seemed to have had the hope that, by entertaining the popular preacher, he might attract a little attention to himself.

The Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 3: "A Pharisee and a Repentant Woman." Luke 7:36-50.

He betrayed his own crudeness, however, when he failed to extend the ordinary courtesies of the time. He probably thought Jesus was a yokel who would consider it an honor to sit at his table, and would not be aware of the social usages which prevailed at good dinner tables.

With fine gentility Jesus reminded him of his boorishness and made him appear to be exactly what he was—a fourflusher!

A Nameless Woman

The informality of the East made it possible for a woman of the street to get to Jesus' side, and there perform a very beautiful act of adoration which outraged the smug and crude host.

There are those who have tried to make it appear that Mary of Magdala was the woman in the case, but there is nothing in the scripture to support the argument. In fact, nowhere in the New Testament is there any word whatever indicating that she was in any sense a woman of ill repute.

To charge her with being a person of easy virtue is utterly unjust. But whoever the woman was, at least this much must be said for her—she was under no delusions concerning herself. She knew herself for exactly what she was, and that was the beginning of her redemption.

Telling Ourselves the Truth

Nothing is more difficult than telling ourselves the truth about ourselves. Very few of us are willing to call ourselves sinners; most of us listen eagerly to the preacher who tells us that we are victims of a system or of circumstances.

There can never be any real redemption of life, either for the individual, the nation, or society, until we are willing to tell ourselves the truth about ourselves.

It must have been a terrible experience when the woman finally said to herself, in profound shame and humiliation, "I am a harlot." But the moment she did she was well started on her way back.

There is a great danger that, in fighting Communism, we will be blind to the sins which flourish unrebuked under our democratic system. Even the righteous need to come under conviction occasionally.

Church Society
Holds Meeting

Fourteen members of the Missionary Society of the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church assembled at the church Thursday afternoon for the regular January meeting.

Mrs. Ray Larrimer, president, conducted the meeting. The devotions, led by Mrs. John Glenn, included the hymn, "Take My Life and Let It Be." Scripture reading from the 147th Psalm, and a prayer at the close.

The regular reports followed and a letter of thanks was read from the Rocky Fork Mission for Christmas boxes.

Mrs. W. P. Noble, secretary of foreign and national missions, passed out six layettes to members to be sewed during February. They will be returned with two baby blankets and pajamas.

A report of the mid-winter Columbus Presbyterian meeting was given by Mrs. Paul Elliott and Mrs. Orville Mickle read an article on the Sesqui-centennial hymn contest which ends February 1. The words to the hymn were used as a solo by Mrs. Arthur Engle accompanied by Mrs. Harry G. Craig.

A report was also given on the Interdenominational call which will terminate Sunday, February 3. Mrs. Glenn offered a prayer for the youth who will answer the call.

An impressive memorial service for Mrs. Anna Larrimer was given by Mrs. Engle.

Mrs. Harry G. Craig read sketches on two articles, "Eastern Area" and "Equador, Brazil, Chile and Colombia", and names of missionaries for the day were read by Mrs. Mildred Moberly and prayer was given by Mrs. Leafy Edwards.

The meeting closed with the benediction and light refreshments were served by Mrs. Maude Howland, hostess chairman, Mrs. Harry G. Craig, Mrs. Donald King and Mrs. Arthur Engle.

Mrs. Chapman introduced Mrs. Arthur T. Palmer of Columbus, state department president of the Auxiliary, who was a distinguished guest. She spoke on the topic of "National Security."

In her talk Mrs. Palmer pointed out that three times in the past 35 years of the United States has been caught in a tragic international emergency without a national defense system, and in each recurring crisis, Americans have rallied magnificently to defend their country and to defeat the enemy—then the battle over, the armies have been dispersed and the great country, with defenses weak, has become a vulnerable target for attack.

She outlined in eight major points ways to maintain national security in military training, civil defense, strong air force and navy, school savings program, departmental national security conferences and reports on these conferences.

In conclusion, Mrs. Palmer said, "Let us resolve that this year will make possible a strong policy for national security which will stand as a bulwark for our nation—this is a challenge for each auxiliary and post member and is a call-to-arms for each patriot."

At the close of her most interesting and instructive talk, Mrs. Palmer also told of the wonderful work being done by the Department of Ohio for the O.S.S.O. Home in Xenia, and the Chillicothe, Brecksville and Dayton Veteran Hospitals.

Mrs. Troy Klepinger of Chillicothe, seventh district president and aide for the Chillicothe Veteran's Hospital, spoke briefly on her work and thanked the unit for their work each month at the hospital.

Mrs. Henry Breth, also of Chillicothe, department musical chairman, led the group in the singing of the new auxiliary song and asked that a chorus or quartet to be organized in the unit to compete in a contest at the convention.

Mrs. Mace, president, thanked the various committee's for their

Dinner Precedes
Special Meeting
Of Auxiliary

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary here included State Department guests at a covered dish dinner which preceded the meeting Thursday evening in Legion Hall. At the dinner also were members of the Paul H. Hughey American Legion, and those of the New Holland and Jeffersonville units.

Following the congenial dinner hour Mrs. Howard Mace, president of the unit, opened the meeting in ritualistic form and welcomed the guests before turning the meeting over to Mrs. Emerson Chapman, national security chairman.

She presented a trio of girls from Bloomingburg School, Betty Barton, Linda Gault and Linda Frederick, accompanied by Mrs. Austin Frederick, in two vocal numbers. Miss Marilyn Heistand, also of Bloomingburg, played a piano solo.

WHS Game at Circleville Postponed Because of Flu

The Lion cagers of WHS have an unexpected night off Friday (tonight).

They were to have started their Ohio League play at Circleville, but the game was postponed.

Circleville school authorities called here Thursday afternoon to say that the schools there had been closed because of an influenza epidemic. They asked that the Friday night basketball game between the Lions and the Tigers be postponed. No playoff date was set.

Harry Townsend, the WHS cage coach, said: "Of course we were agreeable. We have to work together at a time like that. Our chief concern is for the people over there at Circleville now. We just hope they can whip that flu

5-Under Par Scores Pace Tucson Open

TUCSON, Feb. 1 —(P)—Hungry newcomers and last year's big money winner were in the field that Saturday began chasing Cary Middlecoff of Memphis and Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Cal., in the second round of the $10,000 Tucson Open golf tourney.

Neither of the leaders was satisfied with his five-under-par 65.

They weren't nearly as disgusted as Jimmy Demaret. The brilliantly-garbed Texan who plays out of Ojai, Calif., needed 14 strokes to finish the 53-yard, par five, 18th hole. He drove five balls out of bounds as he tried to cut across a slight dog-leg. Those wasted strokes gave him 33-45—78 for the day.

Lloyd Mangrum, who took the major share of prize money in 1951, is one of 10 tied for seventh place with scores of 68. He is as feared as when the tourney started.

Just two strokes behind the leaders with 67s are four lesser-known pros—Frank Champ of Lake Charles, La.; Doug Higgins of Fort Worth, Fred Hawkins of El Paso and Max Evans of Detroit.

Findlay Judge Enters Cage Player Dispute

FINDLAY, Feb. 1.—(P)—Action by the Ohio State High School Athletic Association declaring a 17-year-old freshman ineligible for athletic competition was lifted temporarily Thursday by Common Pleas Judge Chester Pendleton.

OHSAA Commissioner H. W. Emswiler declared David Miller, ninth grade pupil, ineligible. He said he received complaints that Miller was a pupil at a junior high school in Findlay which has a different principal from Findlay high school, where the boy played as a basketball substitute.

Emswiler said this is contrary to OHSAA regulations and ordered nine games Miller played in for Findlay High forfeited.

Judge Pendleton issued a temporary restraining order against the OHSAA from declaring Miller ineligible and set i. e. 9 a date for a hearing on a plea for a permanent injunction. Howard Miller, father of the youth, requested the order.

Gehrmann-Wilt To Duel Again

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 1 —(P)—A cocky Don Gehrmann goes after his fourth win of the year over Fred Wilt here Friday night.

"We'll put on a good show, as usual," the little miller said airily when asked if he'd try for anything near a record. "The time will depend on Wilt. I'll just run to win."

Illini Cagers Due To Meet Buckeye '5'

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 —(P)—Illinois risks its Big Ten leadership in Columbus Saturday night against Ohio State's unpredictable basketball crew.

The Buckeyes are not strangers to the upset role. After a preliminary, non - conference campaign that marked them less than average, they toppled previously unbeaten Indiana, a pre-season Big Ten favorite, 73-72.

Thursday night the Bucks fell before St. Louis University, ranked sixth nationally. The final score was 62-58 against the Ohioans. Paul Ebert, Ohio's star center, who scored 20 points, was out a good part of the game because of a high number of fouls against him. Ohio State ranks third in the Big Ten with three victories in five games.

Announcing the Golden Anniversary-

Cadillac

...WITH THE FINEST PERFORMANCE OF ALL TIME !

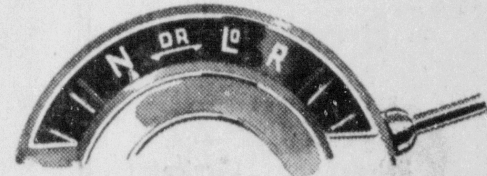

Featuring 3 of Cadillac's Greatest Engineering Achievements!

THE NEW 190 H. P. CADILLAC ENGINE

Here is the most powerful, the most durable, and the most efficient automotive engine ever offered in a Cadillac car. Its power increase alone is almost 20%—and its new four-throat carburetor, larger exhaust valves, wider exhaust ports and new dual exhaust system make this engine one of the most dynamic performers of all time.

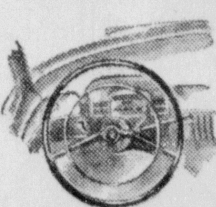

Fifty years ago, the first Cadillac car made its bow to the public. Today, as a fitting climax to those fifty years of progress, we are presenting in our showrooms the Golden Anniversary Cadillac—by far the finest car ever to bear this distinguished name. . . . It is easily the most beautiful of all Cadillacs. Numerous changes have sharpened and smartened the exterior design—while the wholly-new interiors are a revelation in comfort and luxury. . . . Performance is the finest of all time. The great Cadillac engine has a power increase of almost twenty per cent—and is even smoother and quieter in its operation. . . . There's a new Hydra-Matic Drive that gives the proper power application for every need. At a flick of the finger, you can have extra power and acceleration for city traffic and mountain driving—or wonderfully smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance for the open road. . . . And there's a new "power steering" mechanism, optional at extra cost, which reduces normal steering effort by as much as seventy-five per cent! . . . If ever it could be said of a car's performance that it is "out of this world," it can be said of the performance of the new Cadillac. The Golden Anniversary Cadillac is available in three series—the "Sixty-Two," the "Sixty Special" and the "Seventy-Five." . . . These new creations are now on display in our showrooms—and we invite you to see and inspect them at your earliest convenience.

THE NEW HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE

By introducing an entirely new performance range, Cadillac's Hydra-Matic provides the proper power for every need . . . extra acceleration and responsiveness for city and mountain driving; smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance for the open road. Optional at extra cost on Series 75. Standard equipment on all other models.

THE NEW CADILLAC POWER STEERING

This "power steering" mechanism eliminates as much as seventy-five per cent of all normal steering effort. It provides incredible handling ease, and yet does not interfere in any way with the driver's "road feel" or directional control. Available as an option at extra cost.

George Pensyl Is New President Of County's Historical Society

George Pensyl, head of the C. A. Gossard Jewelry Co., Thursday night was elected president of the Fayette County Historical Society for the ensuing year. He will succeed John P. Case, who had held the presidency the past two years, and who had asked to be relieved due to duties outside of the city.

The meeting, one of the most interesting and enthusiastic ever held by the society, was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Case, 320 Cherry Street. It was climaxed by a social hour.

In addition to Pensyl being chosen president, Miss Edith Gardner was re-elected vice president; B. E. Kelley, secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Johnson, treasurer.

The following board of directors also was elected: Howard Allen, George Robinson, Jr., Valdo R. McCoy, Mrs. B. E. Kelley, Ralph Nisley, Chester Zimmerman and Robert Jefferson.

The nominating committee appointed by President Case was composed of Mrs. Arch O. Ribber, the chairman; Ulric T. Acton and D. Valden Long. The entire list of nominees was elected by unanimous vote of the society.

THE TREASURER'S report showed a balance of $555.54 in the treasury.

Many memberships were added at the Thursday night meeting, which was well attended.

The membership of the society is now more than 100, the treasurer said.

President John P. Case presided at the business meeting, and extended greetings to the members.

He also spoke of the increased interest in the society as the result of the Sesqui-centennial celebration being planned, and the need of cooperation with the Sesqui-centennial committee.

City Manager W. W. Hill was introduced as the first speaker of the evening. He spoke of the commendable purpose of the society and the need of the society to preserve the historical things of the community, so that they may be saved for the present generation and the generations to come.

HE STRESSED that the Sesqui-centennial means much to the Fayette County Historical Society because it will arouse interest in the worthwhile things that should be preserved for all time.

It is highly important to have such a society, to collect and preserve the things that will tell the story of the past, he said, as he praised the society for the work it is doing toward giving the community something that can be enjoyed and will be enlightening.

Hill also said that he believed Fayette County should establish a proper home for the society, so things worth while may be saved and placed where the public can enjoy them.

"I am ready to do all I can to help finance a home for the society; it should have a proper place as a permanent home by all means," he said.

"What you are doing in this society helps make life just that much more worthwhile, and the society is worthy of the support of everyone," he stated.

In concluding, he said it was a great privilege to live in a country where freedom exists and in a country where liberty is always put foremost.

RALPH PENN, chairman of the Fayette County committee of the Ohio Sesqui-centennial Commission, was next introduced by President Case.

He commended the society for selecting Pensyl as president and predicted a successful regime for him.

Penn reviewed the organization of the sesqui-centennial committee here and outlined the work it is doing, stressing that the sesqui-centennial organization here is being held up as a pattern for similar committees in other counties in Ohio.

He also said it is important that his committee and the Fayette County Historical Society work together. He asked full co-operation of the society.

Hiss address disclosed the rapid headway being made in the big celebration being planned for Fayette County; the history of the county that is being compiled as one of the major projects of the committee here, and discussed other phases of the work being carried out.

He suggested that the Historical Society here take over the project of historical markers as a definite work to be done by the society.

The president was authorized to name a committee to work with the Sesqui-centennial group with reference to markers.

MISS ELIZABETH Johnson who is chairman of a committee compiling history of the county, spoke of her work, and the many historical things being brought to light.

She stressed that she and others of the committees are having all historical data authenticated before giving it as historical facts.

Miss Johnson spoke of many phases being covered in the work, and how she and a few others had been compiling historical data for years.

She gave bits of interesting history which were new to most of those present.

Secretary Kelley gave a report covering the past year. It cited numerous gifts, the most important of which was the Dr. J. M. Boyd Indian relic collection of over 1600 pieces, which was presented to the society last summer by the Washington C. H. Board of Education.

He mentioned a number of other unusual contributions, and said that other important gifts had been pledged as soon as housing facilities are available for caring for them.

He again stressed the need of a museum for the society, and urged greater activity toward obtaining such a home as soon as possible.

THE SOCIAL hour following the meeting was a feature of the meeting.

A tea-table, with lace cover, pink tapers, and containing liberal supplies of delicious cookies and confections, was presided over by Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Ralph Penn. Both coffee and tea were served.

Assisting Mrs. Case as co-hostesses were: Mrs. Ed Fite, chairman; Mrs. Arch O. Ribber, Mrs. Max G. Dice, Mrs. B. E. Kelley, Mrs. Harry M. Rankin, Mrs. Ralph Penn, and Mrs. Leonard Korn.

Appreciation of the society was extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Case for their generous hospitality.

Braddock Trucks Stalled by Strike

The fleet of trucks of the Braddock Motor Freight, Inc., of Washington C. H., was idle Friday, pending outcome of a wage dispute involving 5,500 truck drivers in this state.

To avoid likelihood of trucks laden with merchandise being tied up somewhere, the management of the trucking firm here did not send out any of the trucks Friday morning.

New contracts with drivers have been signed by truck owners in several states, but so far as announced, no agreement had been reached in Ohio between truck line operators and drivers.

Apparently truck owners generally did not send out their trucks Friday, and there was a noticeable decrease in the number of commercial freight trucks plying the highways during the day.
